

IRENE SUCHOCKI - was born in Toronto, Canada. After studying Psychology and French at the University of Toronto, her passion for photography developed in the late 1990s and in 2008 she was able to become a full-time photographer. Irene combines her love of travel and nature with her dream-like aesthetic, creating visual poems that evoke a sense of magic, delight, nostalgia and romance. In the spring of 2011 she fulfilled a long-held dream and travelled to the south of France to photograph the white horses of The Camargue. Rendered in pale creams and greys, these photographs capture the quiet grace and beauty of these creatures. Irene's work has been exhibited at the Sundance Film Festival (2008) and at the San Diego Natural History Museum (2012). Her prints are in the private collections of thousands of people around the world and have been purchased by corporate clients and interior designers for a variety of design projects.
